Chiefs of Staff Await Invitation To Visit Russia

White House Says One Would Be Welcome In Hint Of Acceptance

WASHINGTON (AP)—Official Washington cocked an eye on the postman today to see if he would bring an invitation to the Joint Chiefs of Staff to visit Moscow.

In what appeared on the surface to be a hint for such an invitation, the White House and the Pentagon said Thursday none had been received but if one was forthcoming without too many restrictions, the nation's top military men probably would accept.

That left the next move up to the Russians, who had suggested they would welcome two or three Air Force officers to Aviation Day ceremonies in Moscow June 24.

No Official Word

There was no official word, however, that they had in mind the top uniformed officials of the Army, Navy and Air Force and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, the Joint Chiefs chairman.

The most complete version of what has taken place came from the usually close-mouthed Soviet Embassy here.

It said that on Monday a Russian colonel attached to the embassy asked a U.S. Air Force colonel to convey to Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, an invitation to send several high American Air Force officers to the Aviation Day Celebration.

Late Tuesday, it was learned, Twining reported this invitation to Radford, who saw President Eisenhower and presumably mentioned it.

Encourages Russia

Somewhere along the line a decision was made to say enough publicly to encourage the Russians to extend a welcome to the Joint Chiefs.

Reaction on Capitol Hill was generally favorable while somewhat skeptical toward the Russian overture. Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of the Armed Services Committee said: "I do not trust the

REVEAL YEARBOOK CONTENTS—The 1956 Quaker Annual of Salem High School made its first appearance Thursday at a student assembly when the Quaker king and queen and the yearbook dedicatee were announced and awards were given to writers of the weekly and the yearbook.

SHS Yearbook Displayed; King, Queen Crowned At Assembly

The 1956 yearbook of Salem High School, The Quaker, was published as a history of the high school following the theme, "Through the Years." It was announced yesterday at a student assembly at the school when contents of the book were revealed.

The book, dedicated to all past and present citizens of Salem, follows an historical theme because this year is the city's sesquicentennial. The dedication was a surprise to students because usually the dedicatee is a member of the school faculty.

The white leather book with gold embossed lettering is filled with social and scholastic and sports activities, a faculty and student section, and "who's who" division. An innovation in this year's book was the use of reverse engravings in the division pages.

Miss Donna Blender, yearbook editor, presented the first edition of the yearbook to Mayor Dean B. Cranmer.

Miss Sue Perrault, a sophomore, and Earl Althouse, a senior, were crowned Quaker King and Queen during the program. Elected by the entire student body, the king and queen were chosen from among two candidates from each of the four classes who included Barbara Schuster and Bill Hone, freshmen; Danny Weber, sophomore; Gunhilde Nyberg and Roy Yeager, juniors; and Marilyn Schaefer, senior.

The 1955 king and queen were Miss Sue Hill and Lani Walwaile; and former grid coach Ben Barrett, an instructor at the school, received the dedicatee award.
The seniors who were listed in a "who's who," chosen by the senior class, are Mary Mercer and Dick Coppock, friendly girl and boy; Carol Brautigam and Ralph Hanna, most attractive; Miss Blender and Jack Alexander, most versatile; and James Barcus, most likely to succeed.

Awards for work on the annual were presented by Miss Blender to Judy Fisher, editorial pin; and Lynne Clewell, Dick Coppock, Nancy Coughie, Virginia Courtney, Diana Crowe, Sandy Green, Sis Hanna, Sue Henning, Bob Julian, Carol Lodge, Beverly Mercer, Vivian Vincent, Marcella Volpe, Mary Ann Windle and Marilyn Cameron, one year certificates.

Ike's Request For Only 35,000 Homes Beaten

Measure Heads To House; GI Loan Program Extended

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate-passed bill to authorize 135,000 new public housing units a year headed today toward the House, which has voted for the last three years to knock out all such authority.

The House has not yet acted this year on the recurring controversy. Housing legislation still is pending in the House Banking Committee. President Eisenhower asked a two-year program limited to 35,000 units a year.

The Senate's much larger figure was included in an omnibus housing bill passed by voice vote Thursday night. Among other things, the bill for the first time would establish a federal program of providing homes for elderly persons.

It also would increase Federal Housing Administration loan insurance authority by three billion dollars, extend the GI home loan program for one year, continue provisions for military, farm and college housing, and provide another 100 million dollars for slum clearance grants.

Most of the provisions were non-controversial, but on those where a fight developed, the Eisenhower administration lost on every test vote.

A 41-38 vote rejected a move to write Eisenhower's 35,000-unit public housing program into the bill in place of the Senate Banking

Cavalcade To Visit 18 Cities, Towns; More Men Needed

More than 150 Salem "Brothers of the Brush," "Sisters of the Swish" and queen candidates will join an itinerant cavalcade which will tour 18 district cities and villages Saturday.

The motorcade will gather at Centennial Park at 9 a.m. and leave Salem at 10. It will head east on Route 14 to begin its 118-mile tour.

First place to be visited will be Washingtonville at 10:10 a.m. Other communities and the times the cavalcade will arrive include: Leetonia, 10:25 a.m.; Columbus, 10:50; New Waterford 11:15; East Palestine, 11:30; Lisbon, 12:10; East Liverpool, 1 p.m., one hour break for lunch.

Wellsville, 2:20; Salineville, 3; Hanoverton, 3:35; Kensington, 3:40; Minerva, 4:15; Alliance, 5; Sebring, 5:15; Beloit, 5:20; Westville, 5:30; Damascus, 5:45.

The cavalcade committee, at a meeting Wednesday night, laid final plans for the tour. A large number of Sisters of the Swish and queen candidates were present, but more Brothers of the Brush are needed for the tour.

The committee has appealed for more "Brothers" to appear on Saturday morning to join the group. All those wishing to go should be at Centennial Park by 9 a.m.

Lee Hollinger is motorcade marshal and Charles Kniesley personal commander. Fred Filler is itinerant cavalcade chairman. Car dealers are supplying autos.

A 16-piece American Legion band will accompany the cars on the tour. Mayors of the various cities have been notified of the tour and will be on hand to greet the travelers.

Another 18 cities will be visited by a cavalcade Saturday, June 2.

Beaver, Pa., Man Hurt In One-Car Accident

One driver received injuries in a one-car mishap on Rt. 30, one-half mile west of Lisbon, at 10:30 p.m. Thursday, the State Highway Patrol reported today.

Charles E. Halbert, 27, of Beaver, Pa., is in fair condition at Salem City Hospital with a possible back injury.

The motorist was injured when he lost control of his auto while rounding a curve, causing it to go off the right side of the road, then the left side and roll over down the berm of the highway. The vehicle was completely demolished.

The patrol said the accident is still under investigation.

Will Impanel New Jury For Next Police Trial

LISBON — Members of the jury which acquitted Robert Hanna, suspended East Liverpool patrolman, of burglary charges Thursday have been relieved of further duty as jurors in criminal cases during this term of court, Norman Ward, assignment commissioner, reported today.

The jurors, however, are subject to serve for civil cases.

A new jury will be impaneled for the trial Monday of Ira Cunningham, 50, suspended East Liverpool policeman, and Jerry Raymond, 28, East Liverpool merchant policeman, charged with burglarizing the Berman Lumber Co. East Liverpool.

Meanwhile, Hanna is expected to ask reinstatement into the police department, but only to establish his legal right to more than two months' back pay and two weeks' vacation pay — a total of about $765.

Hanna, like the four others still awaiting trial on burglary counts, was in a payless state pending the disposition of his case. In a talk Thursday with Mayor Arnold Devon, Hanna indicated he will not seek to return to duty, but will attempt to seek reinstatement to qualify for the suspended salary.

The question of restoring Hanna rests with Safety-Service Director William Heasley, who issued the suspension order.

Gov. Harriman Gains Support For Nomination In Oklahoma

Editor's Note—Jack Bell veteran Associated Press political writer, surveys Democratic presidential developments in Oklahoma, border state carried by Eisenhower in 1952.

By JACK BELL
OKLAHOMA CITY — New York Gov. Averell Harriman has established a Southwestern beachhead of Oklahoma support in the Democratic presidential contest but his claim on the state's 28 nominating votes appears shaky. Gov. Raymond Gary of Oklahoma, who plans to lead his state's delegation into the Harriman camp, indicated today he is ready to climb quickly aboard any bandwagon he sees rolling at the Chicago national convention.

"We want the party to pick the man who appears to be the strongest candidate for president," Gary said in an interview. "My personal preference is for Gov. Harriman but there are others I could support."

In the latter category, Gary listed Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 party standardbearer who is seeking this year's nomination, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Oklahoma's support is important to Harriman because it gives him grounds to claim that he has strength in a farm - oil, border state President Eisenhower carried in 1952 by a surprising 87,000 margin out of about 950,000 votes. Gary made it plain he expects Harriman to get the state's 28 votes on the first ballot. But he said:

"We from Oklahoma hope to be able to vote with the majority when the final decision is made on the nomination."

It has been a sore point among Oklahoma Democrats that their state missed the nomination boat at the 1952 convention by continuing to cast its vote for the late Alben W. Barkley on the third ballot when Stevenson was nominated.

Although many Democrats disagree, Gary said he thinks Harriman would run a stronger race in Oklahoma against Eisenhower than any other candidate. He insisted the New York governor has a greater "grass roots" appeal, for instance, than Stevenson.

"Stevenson is a brilliant and a good man," Gary said. "He would make a grand president. But for some reason he doesn't seem to take hold with the rank and file voter at the forks of the creek."

This donation sponsors two graduating seniors and the donors to the dinner.

Man Finds Mother Fatally Wounded

CLEVELAND (AP)—M. Sgt. Ron said Sarnecki told police he got a frantic telephone call Thursday from his mother, who said, "Hurry up and get over here."

When he got there he found his 44-year-old mother, Mrs. Sophie Sarnecki, lying inside the side entrance to her tavern, a bullet wound in her left chest.

There was a snub-nosed .38-caliber revolver next to her body, powder burns on her blue nightgown, and bullet holes in the door glass and in a metal cabinet and refrigerator.

She died en route to Marymount Hospital.

County police Thursday night joined the two-man police force of suburban Valley View in the investigation.

They questioned and released Mrs. Sarnecki's husband, Henry. Police held a 50-year-old man for questioning. They said robbery did not seem to be the motive since there was cash in the till.

Church Group Holds 168th Assembly

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The 168th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. today took under consideration a merger with the United Presbyterian Church, a major move in the Church's drive toward unity.

The merger originally was devised as a three-way plan, including the Presbyterian Church in the U.S., a southern states branch.

The issue of a precise stand on segregation and other matters intervened, however, and last year, the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. rejected the merger proposal. The other two then decided to go ahead with a two-way plan.

The Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., convening here for seven days ending May 30, has 2,736,000 members. The United Presbyterian Church, with Presbyteries primarily in the state of Pennsylvania, has 235,000 members.

Proponents of the merger propose to call the combined church the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and therein lies the greatest hitch.

In such mergers, the principal opposition comes most often from the smallest party involved. In this case, the opposition, such as it seems to be, comes from the larger one on the grounds the name of the new church should not "play up" that of the lesser or smaller group.

There appears little doubt, however, that the merger will be approved by the General Assembly here, name change or no. There then would remain a vote of approval by the United Presbyterian Church general assembly at Knoxville, Tenn., next June 13-18 and a vote of confidence by the majority of both group's presbyteries.

Today's session, the second of the seven-day meeting, will be the first under the gavel of the newly-elected moderator, David W. Proffitt.

Proffitt, a 64-year-old merchant farmer from Maryville, Tenn., emerged Thursday as somewhat of a surprise winner in the three-way race for the church's most important post.

More and more, the moderator has become the spokesman, the "voice" of the church. Proffitt is the first lay moderator—a non-clergyman—in the last nine years. The one-year job is non-paying but considered a great honor, both to the individual and to the church he serves.

He defeated President Eisenhower's Washington Pastor, the Rev. Edward L. R. Elson of the National Presbyterian Church, an "odds-on" pre-election favorite. Trailing in third place was a "dark-horse" candidate, the Rev. Ramon M. Kistler, president of Beaver College, Jenkintown, Pa.

After the Proffitt-Elson-Kistler votes of 474-323-108 were announced (with a 453 majority necessary for victory), the assembly moved to make Proffitt's election unanimous.

Rescuer Of Two Persons Is Rescued Himself

ELIZABETH CITY, N.C. (AP)—Richard Walter, 15, helped rescue two persons from drowning last August. The favor was returned in good measure Thursday.

Walter was rescued from the Pasquotank River by the Coast Guard after his sailboat overturned in a stiff wind.

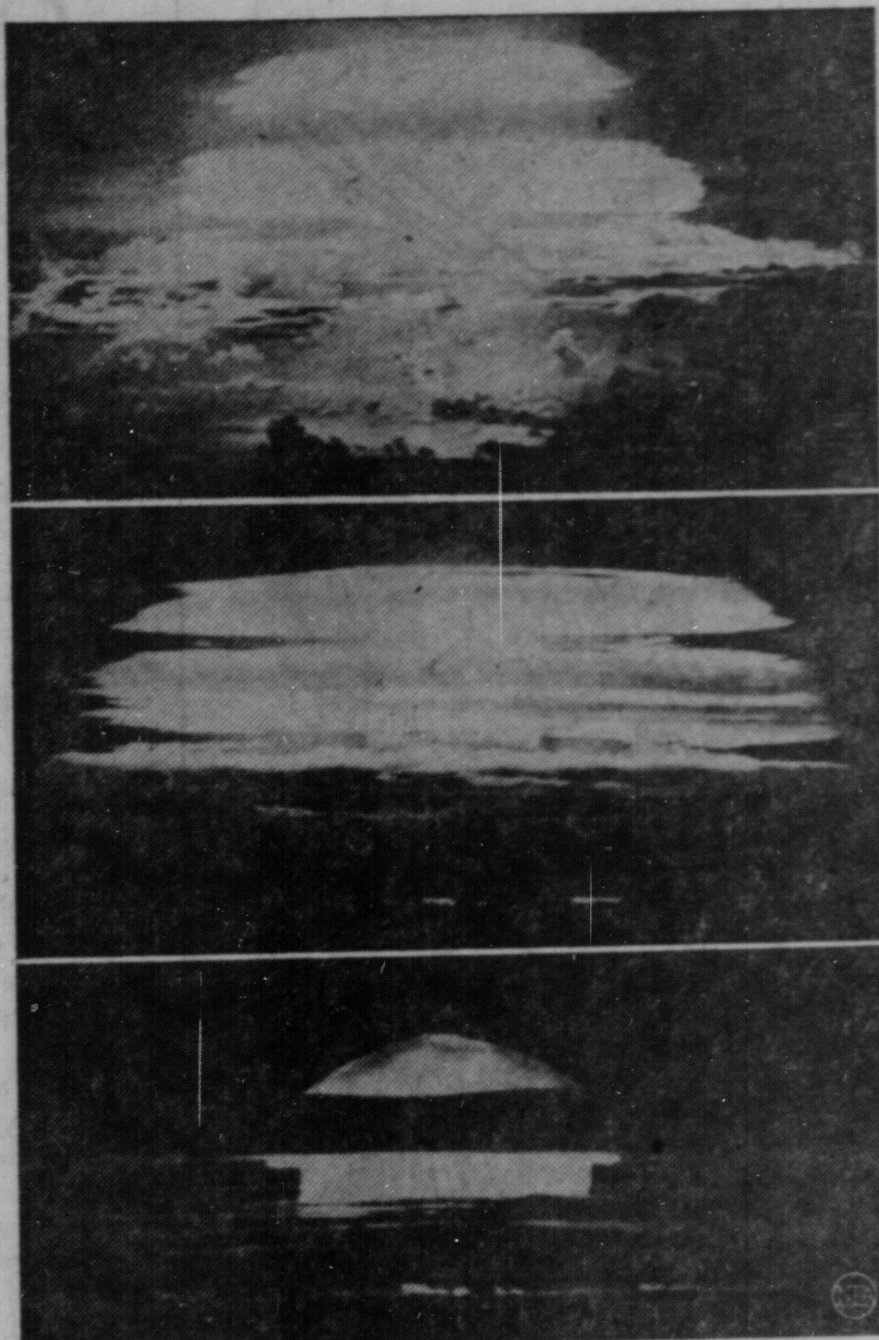

Dr. John Weeks, Pasquotank County coroner who lives nearby, saw Walter clinging to an inflated inner tube. He called Coast Guard headquarters, which dispatched a rescue helicopter.

A Victory For Time

By HAL BOYLE

PINEY GROVE, N. C. (AP)—Time is winning a slow victory over Mrs. Aggie Lossiah, custodian of a dying past.

Aggie, who is going on 76, is one of the few remaining Cherokee Indian women with a first-hand knowledge of old tribal ways and customs.

As a young girl, Mrs. Lossiah, now a widow, walked 170 miles across the mountains to set up housekeeping on a small hill-side farm where she has lived more than half a century.

Sitting on the cabin porch, her stockinged feet comfortably stretched out to feel a cooling breeze, Aggie said gravely:

"It's all gone to the modern times. Things are changing just as fast as they can change."

The honk of a motor car echoed up from a modern highway where stumbling oxen once plodded. The sound stirred Aggie to reverie.

"We sold our last ox to send our oldest boy off to college," she remarked.

Aggie and her husband raised eight children and five of their grandchildren.

"I got so many grandchildren I can't count them," she said.

Mrs. Lossiah is full of ancient Cherokee hill lore. She used to make her own soap. She still knows the art of making such Indian delicacies as bean bread, possum grape drink and meat skin soup. She knows how to brew the native herb remedies — ginseng for colic, boneset for pneumonia, wild cherry for measles, Christmas fern for fever.

"But when people get sick now they run to the doctor to get a pill," she remarked. "I never had a doctor until this spring, when I spent a spell in the hospital."

Aggie didn't want to go to a hospital. She had to be talked into it. She has no desire to adjust to modern times, has a deep contempt for new kitchen gadgets.

Award Contracts For Election Ballots

LEETONIA — The county election board awarded an $84.08 contract last week to the Wilson Printing House of East Liverpool to furnish 4,425 ballots for a special election July 31 in the Leetonia Exempted Village School District on a $514,137 bond issue for new school construction.

The Leetonia area bond issue would run 23 years, requiring a 6.2 mill levy to pay the principal and interest. It would finance construction and equipment for a 24-room elementary - junior high building; a multi-purpose building at the Washingtonville School and a music room at the high school.

The board also awarded a contract for $108 to the Columbus Blank Book Co. of Columbus to furnish poll books and all other supplies except ballots for the nine precinct area. The charge is $12 a set.

Mrs. John Frenger Jr., will entertain the Deb-U-Wives Club Tuesday evening, May 29 at the home of Mrs. James Barrett on Pearl Street.

Four tables of 500 were in play at the 500-luncheon held by D. Wallace Rebekah Lodge Wednesday afternoon. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. George Woods, Mrs. William Kegelmeyer, Mrs. Adin Harman and Mrs. George Wire. There will be another card party in two weeks, Wednesday, June 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Gotthardt of New Waterford visited his brother Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gotthardt Wednesday.

The Leetonia Chamber of Commerce will hold its regular meeting in the high school Monday evening at 8 p.m.

This Man Should Be A Pleasant In-Law

CLEVELAND (AP)—When his son gets married, Charles Sorci should prove a pleasant in-law. He proposed to the girl.

The son, PFC Gerald Sorci, 18, is on duty with the Marines in Japan. He phoned his dad last Tuesday and asked him to "take my place and propose to Amy."

So Sorci, 46, of suburban Strongsville took ring and orchids in hand and made the pitch to Amy Raber, 18, who put on a new blue dress for the occasion.

She accepted and Sorci, a newspaper circulation department employee, admitted that he was "more nervous than I was when I proposed to my wife."

She never has had a home with central heating. She still prefers to cook her meals in an iron pot in her fireplace.

"I don't like a stove," Aggie said. "I wouldn't live in a house without a fireplace."

"Food tastes better cooked in an iron pot in a fireplace than in an aluminum pot on a stove."

"Women today seem to think they have a better life because they don't have anything to do. But I think folks were happier in my day when they worked harder."

"In my day a girl knew how to hoe corn ... to make a garden ... to dig in the dirt like a man."

Many even knew how to drive oxen and plow the field.

"Now it seems like girls are afraid to work out in the fields with their parents. There're a lot of changes."

"As I got up to leave, Aggie asked where I lived. When I told her I came from New York City, she nodded and said politely:

"Is it a big city? I've heard of it, yes, I've heard of it. I heard it's a terribly muddy place."

Difference Of Opinion

President Eisenhower has been in a few military arguments himself in his time as a professional soldier and thinks differences of opinion about weapons are healthy.

The rest of us are not half so concerned about differences of opinion as the way politicians take advantage of them to put in an oar where they have no right to be.

It was a difference of opinion, after all, that caused Billy Mitchell to be court-martialed for insisting that bombs dropped from airplanes could sink battleships. But it was the vested interest of localities in shipbuilding and of business enterprise in supplying materials that caused politicians to spend money for battleships long after battleships were obsolete.

Public opinion is less disturbed when militarists question one another's judgment as of official opinion, because official opinion is aware of the way the squabbles can be exploited by politicians. President Eisenhower has been learning the hard way how politicians operate. He is competent to deal with the military problems being aired. But whether or not he can deal with the political implications is another question.

His countrymen could help him if they asked themselves every time another politician blasts off against some detail of military policy what the politician is trying to prove. Is he interested in national security, or is he grinding an ax?

The ax is still a standard weapon in politics but has been obsolete in military circles since the bow and arrow replaced it.

North Has A Problem Too

The southern manifesto of contempt for the U.S. Supreme Court last March is being followed by a series of blunt reminders that a large area of the United States never has accepted the 14th amendment to the Constitution.

James F. Byrnes, who once sat on the Supreme Court, blasts the court's right to uphold the 14th amendment in a current magazine article. He tries to make it appear that unless other states chastise the court for ordering segregation states to desegregate their schools something ominous will happen to state and local government.

This week in Washington, a minority of the House Judiciary Committee dissents from a majority report favoring the Eisenhower administration's civil rights proposals in an angry outburst that calls the administration's mild bill a "Frankenstein."

Everybody is out of step but the southern segregationists, according to the Byrnes-Eastland-Talmadge line. Or as it usually is explained, the South has a peculiar problem, therefore the North should quit bothering about the Constitution, equal rights, civil rights and the dream of equal opportunity for all.

The North has a peculiar problem, too. Its problem is how to keep the dream of equal opportunity alive so none of America's enemies and critics can sneer that it was killed by a reactionary minority.

If the North knuckled under, as it has been urged to do since pre-Civil War times and is still being urged to do by the Byrneses, Eastlands and Talmadges, who would stand for equality of opportunity in the United States?

Military Squirrelheads

Someone — and it may have been former President Truman — said a "squirrel-headed general" planned the World War II actions at Salerno and Anzio during the Italian campaign.

Thousands, tens of thousands and hundreds of thousands will say a fervent amen to that characterization, among them Sir Winston Churchill, who thought the whole Italian campaign was a squirrel-headed operation before it began.

The only thing that saved the day was its ultimate success, which has been the case with squirrel-headed military planning ever since men began to throw rocks at one another with lethal motives. The only generals forced to go under the guns are the losers, who frequently planned better than the winners but lacked staying power.

Only a few battles that come under the scrutiny of military historians reflect credit on both battle planners. Generals Hooker and Lee at Chancellorsville both had excellent plans — but Lee carried the day. The Russian generals were grossly inept in their plans to turn back the invading Germans in World War II but the Germans beat themselves.

Those who now refight the Italian campaign in theory have an advantage no general possessed when the beachhead actions at Salerno and Anzio were planned. Whoever called someone else a "squirrelhead" — and it may have been former President Truman — has hindsight, not foresight. Churchill had the foresight.

States Losing Rights

By DAVID LAWRENCE

High Court Sacrifices Legality To Expediency

The most spectacular and yet the most sensational news happening of our times is the manner in which the 48 state governments are being deprived of their rights by the Supreme Court of the United States.

The latest decision, rendered this week, takes away from the states their power to regulate employment relations. It takes away from the worker his freedom of association and freedom of expression as an individual — his civil rights — and puts them at the mercy of an intolerant majority in Congress.

He must join a union or be deprived of a job with the railroads.

Minority rights, which from the foundation of the Republic have been safeguarded by the Constitution, now are to be vested in a political majority in Congress.

Justice Frankfurter, who wrote an opinion concurring in the decision, makes no bones about it — he virtually acknowledges that the Supreme Court is a political body which changes its views with the whims of popular opinion and he lauds this as a virtue.

IN DISCUSSING the 60-year history of the fight for and against compulsory unionization, Mr. Frankfurter reviews the criticisms and traces the various opinions handed down. Then he says:

"The change in the court's understanding of industrial problems, certainly as they affect railroads, in their bearing upon the country's commerce and all that thereby hangs, to no small degree reflected the changed attitude of the railroads toward the role of labor unions in the discharge of the functions of the railroads. As striking evidence as any of this important shift in opinion is the fact that the Railway Labor Act of 1926 came on the statute books through agreement between the railroads and the railroad unions on the need for such legislation."

Here is a confession that the Supreme Court nowadays doesn't consider what the Constitution says but what private interests, powerful in politics, may agree upon as between themselves.

THE FAMOUS "code authority" provision of the National Recovery Act, which permitted agreements to be made between management and labor, was struck down by a unanimous opinion of the Supreme Court in 1935 precisely because the nine justices believed the public interest was greater under the Constitution than any agreements made between private interests such as labor and management even though Congress sanctioned those agreements.

Mr. Frankfurter, however, feels that if employers in an industry get together with labor unions to form a job monopoly and decide to deprive anyone of a job unless he belongs to a union, this is a worthy objective. He hints that he would uphold the constitutionality of a law on that particular provision if it came before him. But he claims for the record, of course, that the Supreme Court "put to one side" such situations in the case decided this week.

Actually, it was before the court, but the nine justices chose technical grounds for shutting their eyes to the issue altogether. It is plain to see the handwriting on the wall — minority rights are vanishing, and whatever law Congress decides to enact hereafter to regulate employment relations will become "the supreme law of the land" in the eyes of the present court.

IN WRITING the main opinion, Justice Douglas in behalf of the other justices says: "Congress, acting within its constitutional powers has the final say on policy issues. If it acts unwisely, the electorate can make a change."

But when the Supreme Court endows Congress with greater power than the Constitution bestows and euphemistically calls it just a "policy," the electorate can't change their Supreme Court. Unless, therefore, the court whose judges now concede that they are influenced by the pressures of popular opinion, takes heed of public criticism, certain constitutional rights will be lost for the period that an unwise or irresponsible court holds office.

"One would have to be blind to history," says Justice Douglas, "to assert that trade unionism did not enhance and strengthen the right to work."

This is a frank avowal of the concept of expediency — the Machiavellian doctrine that the end justifies the means. Other justices — the men who made the Supreme Court the respected institution it has been for decades — did not fall victim to political expediency.

THEY EXPONDED the Constitution in accordance with legal and not political concepts and never allowed Congress to grant permissive power to private economic groups to take away minority rights. It was in May 1935 when a unanimous court headed by Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes knocked out the expediency argument by declaring: "Extraordinary conditions do not create or enlarge constitutional power."

The same court could properly have added that a change in political or sociological conditions or in the tides of public opinion does not change the Constitution of the United States unless Congress by a two-thirds vote of both houses and three-fourths of the states of the Union say so in approving an amendment to the Constitution itself.

Age Of Machinery

The thought crosses my mind so often it has worn a groove, that to be baffled and muddle-headed about machinery is an admission of guilt in what historians are calling the Machine Age.

Even atomic fission and fusion, which loom large in all current prospects of affecting our lives, depend on machinery for control. It is a historic fact that releasing the power of the atom was only a theoretical possibility until U.S. engineers devised the mechanical means of doing it. The mechanical means are still the most carefully guarded of all atomic secrets.

But it is not necessary to cite atomic secrets as evidence that all of us are under compulsion to get help about mechanics to prove our right to survival in the Machine Age. Our bafflement trips us up in such simple things as can-openers and the multiplicity of mechanical gadgets with which we must come to terms in everyday existence.

A householder these days who cannot assert his mastery over the mechanical challenges which are commonplace is in danger of becoming a displaced person. He is trying to survive in the Machine Age with a Stone Age sense of survival, and it simply will not do.

Even if he has a rudimentary sense of nuts and bolts and a speaking acquaintance with the principle of leverage and power transmission, it is not enough to equip him for routine maintenance of the power mower with which he keeps his lawn trimmed.

Admitting that the particular power mower for which I have assumed operating responsibility is more intricate than the ordinary run of these mechanical monsters, I have a book of instructions for making ordinary adjustments. Moreover, the instructions are illustrated.

That is to say, anyone who can read a blueprint and can grasp what Archimedes figured out about leverage a couple of thousand years ago should be able to grasp the idea in a jiffy. That is the catch.

I have not yet pulled abreast of Archimedes in my comprehension of mechanics. Confronted with a choice of two places where adjustments could be made, but only one place where an adjustment needed to be made, I inevitably chose the wrong place and made the lawnmower go from bad to worse.

This finally entailed recourse to professional assistance and the customary mild rebuke from the professional tinkerman to another floundering dub whose right to own and operate a wrench is kept under a cloud by his unfeeling tendency to do the wrong thing with it.

And that is why the thought wears a path across my mind that all of us who cannot develop sure-footedness in ordinary mechanics are Stone Age goons displaced in the Machine Age. We are on trial for our right to survive.

We must prove ourselves worthy of the privileges and frustrations that are threatening to engulf us.

Snob In Red

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

What is becoming increasingly obvious is that when Bulganin and Khrushchev attended the socialist meeting and dinner in London,

Khrushchev acted normally. He acted as the Bolshevik boss is impelled to do among a lot of Mensheviks. Bolshevism despises as every Bolshevism despises every other kind of Sokolosky Socialist throughout the world. Khrushchev acted in precisely the same way with French Premier Mollet who is also a Socialist but not a Communist.

When the Socialist Democratic party of Russia split in 1903 into two branches, the Bolsheviks and the Mensheviks, the majority and the minority, a profound hatred developed between them unparalleled among other political parties. Trotsky, who had been a Menshevik prior to the Russian Revolution of 1917, never fully gained the confidence of the Bolsheviks even though Lenin made him the second man in the Communist hierarchy.

THE BRITISH Labor party is a socialist party consisting of Fabian Socialists, orthodox Second International Social Democrats, a few fellow-travelers who are sufficiently left-wing to be regarded as closer to the Communists than they should be. To a Bolshevik boss, such as Khrushchev whose life-work has been in the party apparatus, the very existence of such people is an offense. Therefore, he acted toward them with the bad manners that an underbred person displays when he finds himself in distasteful company.

The Russian Communists have a particular contempt for the parliamentary system which they have never employed in their own or any satellite country. The last time that anything approaching such a body met in Russia was the Constituent Assembly in 1918 which the Bolsheviks forced to close down.

The 20 congresses of the Russian Communist party have not been parliamentary in form because no opposition to the leadership is tolerated.

IT IS ALMOST possible to identify an American with Communist leanings by his tendency to oppose the existence of the American Congress, although less is being said about that now than in the 1930's.

The British Socialists are parliamentarians who expect to achieve great social reforms within the limitations of the British Constitution and by parliamentary methods. Whether for better or for worse, they have been very successful and were in control of the British government from 1945 to 1951 when the Conservatives were returned.

Another point needs to be made: Great Britain, for about three centuries, dominated the world not only by superior arms but by unusual capacity in all branches of economy and an extraordinary feeling for order. The Russians look upon Great Britain now as a minor power whose empire has been broken and is historically lost.

TO A MAN of Khrushchev's training, Great Britain is, at most, a bridge to the United States and to the remaining countries of the capitalist world. Among the capitalist world, Khrushchev would include all non-Communist countries even such as regard themselves as Socialistic but are not Bolshevism.

To Khrushchev such countries as

Red China and India are more important than Great Britain and France because of their enormous populations, their raw materials and their potentials in the formation of a complex for world conquest in the Marxist cause.

Those in Britain who believe that they can come to a permanent arrangement with Soviet Russia that can be favorable to Great Britain are only fooling themselves.

Sir Anthony Eden seems to be pursuing a course which, while it might temporarily be embarrassing to the British Socialists and to the United States, must ultimately be permanently damaging to Great Britain and possibly to the whole Western world. He is perhaps inadvertently encouraging the Russians to believe that they can accomplish a separation between Great Britain and the United States with the promise to lessen anti-British developments in the Far East and the Middle East.

IT MAY NOT be the "beginning of the beginning," as Eden suggested; it could be the end of many things.

It is doubtful that Khrushchev can deliver anything helpful to Great Britain in the Cyprus, Egyptian, Singapore or Israel-Arab situations, but Khrushchev can and probably already is at work creating disturbances within the British Labor party. In such activities, the Bolsheviks are virtuosos.

Although such disorders could temporarily strengthen the capitalist conservatives, to a Bolshevik that is meaningless. They do not dislike conservatives as much as they do different kinds of socialists.

Big Week For Stockholders

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — It's another big week for the stockholders. Some of the biggest companies are holding their annual meetings.

While some of the shareholders may be disturbed over what has been happening to the market value of their holdings of late, for the most part the meetings are bringing soothing predictions of expansion and good earnings. But there is also a full mixture of the things that can come up at such get togethers.

Today is a first for stockholders and management of Ford Motor Co. In tents near the River Rouge plant the public owners are meeting the family and other management officials for the first time. The date for the inaugural was set some time back—before many persons could foresee the present worrisome times in the auto industry.

A generally contented group — shareholders of Jersey Standard Oil—heard its officials Tuesday raise their estimates on the demand for oil this year. President M. J. Rathbone told the meeting in Linden, N. J., that domestic demand should go up 5 per cent this year and demand abroad rise 10 per cent. The shareholders, having got since their last annual meeting the stock split they had long clamored for, also enjoyed a report that earnings were at a record high.

The often boisterous stockholders of the New York Central, meeting today in Albany, to hear Robert R. Young's account of his stewardship, were able to call on Thomas E. Dewey, former New York governor, for legal advice on parliamentary procedures. Management was trying to forestall some of the high jinks of recent years.

Commonwealth Edison's stockholders in Chicago increased the total of common stock and heard a prediction that sales would be a little better this year than last with the outlook ever brighter for the next 10 years.

Much of the time at the Consolidated Edison meeting in New York was spent in reassuring the stockholders — and the neighbors — that the company's atomic reactor, to be built on the Hudson River just north of the city, wouldn't be making bombs or other explosives. It will go about the peaceful business of generating heat to be used in producing electricity.

Stockholders of the Hertz Corp. were told in Chicago that their company planned to spend 41 million dollars of their money this year in adding 10,000 passenger cars and 4,000 trucks to their fleet of vehicles available for rental or leasing.

Pan American World Airways stockholders were assured that more Americans than ever will travel abroad this year.

Stock splitting — popular share owner pastime — occupied the owners of Procter & Gamble at a meeting in Cincinnati. The shareholders approved a two for one split of common stock. In turn management told them it planned to raise the dividend rate.

The Bomb and the Doakes

Joe Doakes was reading reports of the airplane drop of a hydrogen bomb: "It was the most stupendous release of explosive energy ever seen on earth, dwarfing all previous bombs in its horrifying force. Its luminosity exceeded 500 suns. Behind it came a giant pillar of fire." (Mr. Loakes muttered, "So this is the human race at the 1886 peak of development!") He read on: "For 20 seconds a fire pillar with the fireball climbing at incredible speed. Then came the most startling phenomenon of all—a giant super-earthly cloud that spread outward and appeared as if it might envelop the entire earth." ("It's a nice world we're having," thought Doakes. "How crazy can it get?")

"WHAT'S NEW? Anything big?" asked Mrs. Doakes bringing on the bacon and eggs. If it ain't big it will do until something big comes along," replied Joe. "They dropped a hydrogen bomb from an airplane over a Bikini atoll and it says here the explosive yield was at least fifteen megatons. A megaton is equal to a million tons of TNT. Try that on your multiplication table and see if you don't think man has gone nuts."

Mrs. Doakes read over his shoulder: "The sun was seen rising to the right. It seemed puny by comparison." . . . ("And this is almost two thousand years after the birth in the Bethlehem manger and the message of peace on earth!" she groaned. "They dropped the bomb on what was Sunday in our part of the world, too," said Joe. "What goes with the old sense or propriety? I don't dig it.")

HE CONTINUED TO READ: "The hellish cataclysm exceeded all expectations. Temperature 60,000 times the heat of the sun's surface were produced." . . . ("This is an age of progress and built-in human smartness!" grunted Doakes. "Still, I guess we had to do it, with Russia dropping 'em also. Looks like we're all caught in the web of our own inventiveness and trapped in our befuddlements over what to do next for self-preservation. Pardon my grogginess.")

MRS. JOE DOAKES, who had slipped into the living room had returned and began reading something in back of his chair: "When you see the abomination of desolation, let those who are in Judea flee to the mountain; and let him who is on the housetop not go down to take anything from his house; and let him who is in the field not return for his coat. For then there will be great tribulation such as has not been from the beginning of time."

"What's that from?" asked Joe.

The wife.

"It sounds right on the button," said Doakes, "and no matter which side hears it in this 'The Gospel according to St. Matthew,' said cockeyed world."

MAURICE CHEVALIER in his TV spectacular, wowing his audience by charm, real artistry and good taste, was in sharp contrast to many top American comedians with their off-color gags, leers, flip routines and strenuous reaching for laughs. . . . Here is a guy who respects his audience.

John M. Chang, new vesp of Korea, is Manhattan College grad and has six children educated in the U.S.A., two studying for the Roman Catholic priesthood.

A Long Island bride and groom began their honeymoon at a trotting track. . . . (Must have mistaken the pledge to "to love, honor and tear up $2 tickets.")

Nashua is now top millionaire horse. . . . It's a "From Rags to Riches" story. . . . The thoroughbred was pretty well disappointed, however, when, in speaking of his million-dollar winnings, he heard the trainer remark, "That ain't hay."

Nobody but Jimmy Durante with his rare talent and his popularity with the public could survive his recent TV scripts.

Big Ohio River Power Plant Is Dedicated

CHESHIRE, Ohio (AP) — The Kyger Creek plant—largest power plant in Ohio—marks the "renaissance of the Ohio River Valley area," more than 1,200 persons attending dedication ceremonies of the new plant here were told Thursday.

The statement was made by Gov. Frank J. Lausche, who unveiled a large aluminum dedication tablet at the plant.

The 150 million dollar power plant, one of two built by 15 private utility firms forming the Ohio Valley Electric Corp. (OVEC) to supply power to the Portsmouth area Atomic Energy Commission project, is the second largest ever at the dedication, said the Kyger Creek's sister plant, the Clifty Creek plant at Madison, Ind., is slightly larger.

Gov. Lausche, principal speaker at the dedication, said the Kyger Creek development would attract additional industry to the valley.

Lausche paid tribute to Philip Sporn, OVEC president, who played a principal part in building the plant and who presided at the ceremonies.

Others at the dedication included:

Gov. William Marland of West Virginia; Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins, Republican, of Ohio's 10th District, and William R. Davlin, Pennsylvania secretary of commerce.

Sen. George Bender (R-Ohio), another invited guest, was unable to attend.

Guests touring the huge plant saw, among other things: a turbine room twice the length of a football field; five 2,500-kilowatt turbine generators with boilers as high as 12-story buildings; smoke stacks that towered 538 feet, and a network of 330,000-volt transmission lines, highest voltage lines in the country.

The Clifty Creek plant was dedicated Wednesday.

The AEC's gaseous diffusion plant which the two plants serve is 50 miles west of here in Pike County.

Three Dead, Fourth Lost From Cruiser

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP) — A Coast Guard cutter Thursday found a partly submerged cabin cruiser with two bodies lashed to the vessel and a third floating about four miles away. It was north of Pelee Island in Canadian waters of Lake Erie.

A fourth man believed to have been on the boat was missing.

The bodies were identified by the Coast Guard's Marblehead Station near here as those of Alfred J. Newton, 46, of North Canton, Ohio; Norm Killian of Canton, Ohio; and John Seagull of Windsor, Ont., a Canadian customs officer stationed at Pelee.

The fourth man was believed to be James Wornick, a cook at the Pelee Island Hotel.

E. L. Killian, commander of the Coast Guard station, said the Canton man, Norm Killian, apparently had tried to swim ashore when the boat got in trouble in rough waters. His was the body found four miles away from the vessel. The two Killians are not related.

Newlin and Seagull had tied themselves to the boat.

The men had left Pelee late Wednesday to fish. At 8 a.m. (EST) today, the hotel notified the Coast Guard they were missing, but the Coast Guard already had reached the vessel, first sighted by a Canadian fishing tug.

The capsized vessel was a 21 foot aluminum cabin cruiser equipped with two 30-foot outboard engines. A Coast Guard board of inquiry will investigate the accident.

Newlin and Seagull wore no life preservers. Apparently in an attempt to keep from going overboard they had tied themselves to the vessel. Killian had a life preserver of a type not approved by the Coast Guard.

Newlin operates the McDondalville Inn north of Massillon.

Board To Investigate Death Of Recruit During Discipline

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (AP) — A board of officers was assigned today to investigate the death of a Navy recruit after he had been given disciplinary drills.

The trainee was Maurice G. Everett, 17, of McKenzie, Tenn., son of Glen Everett of Lansing, Mich.

His death Tuesday night was attributed to heat stroke at the hospital at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center. Temperatures rose into the 80s and 90s Tuesday in the area.

Lt. C. E. White, public information officer, did not use the word "disciplinary" but reported Everett had been drilled with a rifle in a "retraining section" because he had "not learned the significance of a military order."

White gave a newsman this account today:

Everett, who was in the eighth week of a nine-week boot training period, and another recruit were found in a barracks where they were not authorized to be. The company commander directed them to leave that area and Everett "talked back" to the commander.

Everett was sent to the "retraining section" for one day. He arrived Tuesday morning. He and five others were ordered to take a 45-minute drill with rifles — exercises in which the rifle is shifted into various positions. The routine is 15 minutes of such exercises followed by a five-minute break and then more exercises.

Everett complained of a cramp in his left arm. The company commander massaged the arm and he seemed all right. The recruit went to lunch at 11 a.m. and a chow tray slipped out of his grasp. He told the company commander he was all right and ate a substantial meal.

After lunch Everett was assigned to a lawn watering detail. Then he went back to more rifle drills. He was not doing the routine properly and told the company commander he was too tired.

Everett was dismissed from drill and assigned to a washroom cleaning project. Ten or 15 minutes later the company commander found him unconscious in the washroom.

A medical corpsman was summoned and diagnosed the illness as shock from heat. Everett was taken to Naval Hospital by ambulance. He died at 9:55 p.m. Tuesday.

Capt. J. B. McClean, the station commander, appointed a board of Navy officers to investigate the circumstances. The board was scheduled to meet this afternoon.

Lt. White said the board's findings will be announced, but he could not say how much time the board will require.

Methodists Plan New Ohio Seminary

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP) — More than 200 Methodist leaders meeting here Thursday night endorsed a plan to raise a minimum of four million dollars for a new Methodist theological seminary in Ohio.

A concurrent meeting by other church leaders approved a plan for a year-long study of church building needs in the state. The group heard the Rev. Dr. F. Lee Whitman of Youngstown, chairman of a study committee on church extension needs declare that a minimum of 120 new churches is needed in Ohio in the next four years if Methodism is to keep pace with population growth.

The proposal to raise funds over the next four years for a new seminary follows the recent action of the Methodist General Conference in Minneapolis calling for two new seminaries, one in Ohio and the other in the Kansas-Nebraska area. The location of the new seminary has not yet been determined.

In addition to the fund raising campaign the group also proposed a study of the capital fund needs of four Ohio Methodist colleges, Mount Union, Baldwin Wallace, Ohio Northern and Ohio Wesleyan.

All three proposals will be presented at the Ohio and the North East Ohio conferences of the church in June.

PROBE MAN'S DEATH

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — An autopsy to determine the cause of death of Willie Mins, 50, of Ravenna, has been ordered by Dr. J. R. Turner, Portage County coroner. Mins, who died in the hospital here early Thursday, was admitted to the hospital May 16, reportedly after he fell at a construction project here. It was reported later that he had been in a fight.

Teachers From Area Cities

Guests Of Salem Association

Teachers from schools in area cities were guests of the Salem Teachers' Association on Tuesday evening at a dinner meeting in the Masonic Temple when two noted educators were speakers.

Theme of the dinner meeting session was the sesquicentennial observance. Programs depicted a scene in Salem in 1843, and favors were ceramic bells inscribed "1806-1956." Tables were decorated with bouquets of spring flowers.

Speakers were Miss Elizabeth Yank, president of the department of classroom teachers of the National Education Association, and Ralph S. Miller, president of the Ohio Education Association.

Mrs. Mary Doyle, association president, and E. S. Kerr, superintendent of city schools, introduced the speakers to the association and teachers from Canton, Warren, East Palestine, Minerva, Alliance, Cuyahoga Falls and Youngstown.

Her experiences while traveling in the interests of education throughout 36 states this year and problems of teachers were recounted by Mrs. Yank who is active in professional education organizations at the state, local and national levels.

An elementary teacher from Marysville, Calif., she was elected president of the department of the national association in 1955. A graduate of Chico State College in California, she completed graduate work at the University of California, University of Southern California and San Francisco State College. A member of Delta Kappa Gamma Sorority and a life member of the National Education Association, she works with the League of Women Voters.

Miller traced the history of the Ohio Education Association, the fifth largest state organization in the country, which was organized in 1847. He also said the public schools in the nation are a unifying force for the country.

Becoming dean of Findlay High School in 1953, Miller has been active in education associations. He has been a member of the central region of the department of classroom teachers and the executive committee of that department, chairman of the OEA legislative committee, and a member of the Commission for Improvement of Education in Ohio.

He received his master's degree in school administration and personnel at Ohio State University, after being graduated from Ohio Bluffton College.

Gifts were presented to the two speakers by Mrs. Eugene Early, program committee chairman.

Mrs. Edwin Miller sang the sesqui queen song, accompanied by Mrs. Betty Hofmeister. Mrs. Miller also led in group singing of the Salem anthem.

Officers for the association during the ensuing year, introduced at the meeting, are: Chester M. Brautigam, president; Paul Roher, first vice president; Mrs. Fred Cope, second vice president; Miss Harriet Percival, secretary; and Miss Martha McCready, treasurer.

Two candidates for the title of Salem sesquicentennial queen, Mrs. John Oana and Miss Geraldine Van Hovel, were introduced, as well as many of the teachers attending.

The social committee which arranged the tables was comprised of Mrs. Clyde McFeely, chairman, and Mrs. William Baker, Miss Doris Tetlow, Miss Thelma Thomas, Mrs. Arlene Dolansky, Mrs. Dorothy Crook and Mrs. Mathilda Albright.

Russians but I see no harm in accepting their invitation for legitimate interchange."

He added that "some good could come from intermingling and a fair exchange of information."

"And I believe I would favor inviting Marshal Zhukov and others for a return visit here," Russell said, referring to the Soviet defense minister, Georgi Zhukov.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, also approved.

"I think they should go over there and find out what the Russians are doing," he said. "We are learning a lot about the Russian program. Maybe if some of our leaders see what they are doing they would come back here and help step up our own programs."

Sen. Bridges (R-NH), senior minority member of the Armed Services and Appropriations committees said, however, that he is "personally suspicious."

"If it's a genuine invitation to see major Soviet installations that's one thing, but if it's merely to watch a Soviet air show then that's another he said."

Daniel

said he and the young woman discussed the subject "indirectly" through "Tom Morgan—a playdog which you squeeze."

Whenever he and Jacqueline had arguments or misunderstandings, Daniel said, they would "talk through Tom Morgan" and the "humorous aspect of Tom Morgan" as an intermediary brought them together again.

Herman asked Daniel if he ever had been in a mental institution, and Daniel indignantly replied, "No."

Some time in September after Miss Smith began treatment by a physician for an infection of the cervix, Daniel testified, their relationship became strained because "of her secrecy over the nature of her illness."

The judge asked Daniel if he and Miss Smith "continued to sleep in the same bed" after they became alienated.

"Certainly," replied Daniel, adding that his physical desire for Miss Smith at that time had waned.

Schweitzer asked Daniel if he meant that his physical desire for Miss Smith had diminished, and the defendant replied, "Yes, entirely."

Daniel then added: "Sexual relations are not too important. What is more important is a spiritual attachment, a oneness."

Daniel, in his testimony, said all his pre-trial statements were "fairly true."

"Do you know how Jacqueline Smith died?" asked Herman.

Daniel replied: "How? No. And I don't think you know either."

"Did you ever say a word of truth . . . as to how Jacqueline Smith came to her death?"

"I didn't know the truth myself and I don't know to this day," said Daniel.

OK Use Of Fairgrounds For Contests, Races

LISBON — At a recent Fair Board meeting members gave permission to hold the County Drivers Road-race at the fairgrounds Saturday.

They also gave permission to the Northeastern Ohio Horse Pulling Association to hold its contest on the fairgrounds Decoration Day.

The board voted to have two bicycle races for two different age groups over a one-half mile course Friday, August 24. Another meeting will be held next week, according to Galen Greenstein, president.

DISCUSS TEACHER'S STATUS

MCCONNELSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Attorneys for ousted Deavertown high school teacher Jack W. Eberle, 25, and the Deavertown School Board will meet again today in an effort to clear up his status.

Eberle is fighting his ouster on charges of paddling five girl pupils, teaching the Bible in class and refusing to act as assistant athletic coach.

A Grand Jury refused to indict Eberle on charges of assault and battery brought by the mother of one of the girls Eberle is charged with paddling.

Live Polio Virus Leaks Out Of Crate In Plane

BALTIMORE (AP)—A container of live polio virus, apparently broken when an airport cargo handler dropped a crate, leaked out its contents in an airplane Thursday night. Some swift telephoning brought quick action to immunize all those endangered.

The plane was a Capital Airlines DC4. It took off from Washington with four boxes packed with the virus for delivery to Johns Hopkins Hospital. An airline spokesman in Baltimore said a cargo man dropped the crate in Washington but the damage was not detected until the plane landed at Baltimore's Friendship International Airport.

The cargo was removed at Baltimore, but the plane took on 22 passengers at Friendship and left for Pittsburgh before airline personnel realized the seriousness of the accident.

A swift relay of calls—including one to Dr. Jonas Salk, originator of the Salk polio vaccine—brought quick action.

Seven cargo handlers at Washington National Airport were given protective shots at the airport first aid station. Three cargo men at Friendship were advised to stop at hospitals en route home from work and get shots.

The pilot, copilot and hostess of the plane were also given injections. They were Capt. Edward A. Tappe, Silver Spring, Md.; copilot R. S. Hurley, Arlington, Va.; and Miss B. A. Miller, of Alexandria, Va.

Doctors supervised decontamination of the plane at Pittsburgh and of loading equipment where affected.

Airline officials said passengers were not exposed to the virus.

The virus was being shipped from Parke Davis Co. in Detroit.

Mental Patient Nabbed In Woods Near Canton

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff Harry W. Grossglauss and 40 auxiliary deputies, armed with shotguns, captured a mental hospital escapee Thursday night in a wooded section west of here.

The fugitive, not identified, was one of four men who escaped from Fairview State Hospital near Scranton, Pa., the sheriff said. He was caught in St. Louis and placed in Alton State Hospital, but also escaped from there, Grossglauss added.

State highway patrolmen found the man sleeping in a car on a road near Massillon and were searching him when he broke away and ran into the woods.

Sheriff Grossglauss said the fugitive had stolen a new automobile from a dealer's lot in Illinois.

DRUNK DRIVER JAILED

Paul Barto, 36, of Youngstown was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail for drunk driving by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer today. Barto was arrested by city police while driving on E. State St. at 6:10 p.m. Thursday.

Ike's Message Keynotes Scout Council Session

CINCINNATI (AP) — President Eisenhower today saluted the Boy Scouts and scout leaders by telegram and said, "Never has there been a greater need to train youth in citizenship and character and physical fitness."

A message from the President was read as approximately 1,500 adult leaders of the Boy Scouts of America opened a two-day meeting of their National Council.

The President, who is honorary president of the Boy Scouts, said, "our need for participating citizenship, built upon a strong spiritual foundation, is an urgent demand which we must heed."

"I am happy to salute the million and more volunteer leaders engaged in this essential and vitally important service to our country and to commend them for their dedicated service to boyhood."

Dr. Arthur A. Schuck of Short Hills, N. J., chief scout executive, reported to the group that there now are more than three million boy members in more than 100,000 Cub Scout packs, Boy Scout troops and Explorer units.

He declared, however, that the adult scout leaders "face our greatest challenge in the years ahead."

"As one of the nation's greatest agencies for the training of youth," he said, "the Boy Scouts of America face the most challenging responsibility in its history. We leaders in scouting have made commitments to America to train the youth of our nation in character and good citizenship, and, by our commitments, we have become stewards of a great trust."

"What is happening in the lives of boys in America today may well determine the course of events of the entire world in the future. We must train our youth in larger numbers in patriotism, character, intelligent citizenship, and appreciation of the free way of life and a dedication to high spiritual ideals."

3 Drivers Fined; 9 Forfeit Bonds In Lisbon

LISBON — Three drivers pleaded guilty and were fined a total of $215 and costs and nine forfeited bonds totaling $90 in Mayor Wilbur Warren's Court Thursday.

Fined were Charles Borden, 57, of RD 2, Columbiana, cited by village police for driving while intoxicated, $100 and three days in jail; Robert Cusick, 19, of RD 2, Lisbon, arrested by sheriff's deputies for driving while intoxicated, $100 and three days in jail; and Jack W. Jones, 19, of Wellsville, $15, for driving left of center.

Forfeiting $10 bonds were Willis Reed of Bellville, W. Va., William Burger of Pittsburgh, Robert A. Wehrhadt of Ravenna, Ohio H. Crook of Youngstown, Charles Dillon of Lisbon, Wesley McCune of Wellsville, James Jones of Cleveland, Robert Donahay of Lisbon, and George Boun of Cleveland.

McBride said the county teachers held five workshops during the ending school year.

Jury Shown Injured Boy In Lawsuit

CLEVELAND (AP)—A frightened 8-year-old boy, center of a million dollar law suit, was wheeled into a crowded courtroom Thursday.

His mother's lawyer, who wanted to show the jury that a brain injury had affected the boy's speech, stooped beside the wheelchair and asked him his name and address.

The chubby, blond boy answered in a strained, halting voice, with long pauses between words, "Carl Berry, 6719 Canal Road, Valley View."

"That satisfies me," said his attorney, Craig Spangenberg, as he had the boy wheeled out. "I'm sure it does," said S. Burns Weston, attorney for the defendant, DeWitt Motors, Inc., of Akron.

Weston moved for a mistrial based on the boy's appearance, but he was overruled by Common Pleas Judge Arthur H. Day.

The boy's mother asks a million dollar damages from the Akron firm, charging a car driven by one of its employees hit her son as he alighted from a school bus in front of his home last June 24.

Dr. Andre A. Weil, a Cleveland psychiatrist, said he had taken an electroencephalogram, a method of recording brain waves, of the boy after the accident, and that the graphs were "definitely abnormal." He said he could not tell the cause of the abnormality.

Dr. Herman D. Arbitman, a psychologist, testified the boy's intelligence quotient had dropped 23 points since the accident, and he showed poor co-ordination when reaching for testing blocks.

Winona Ruritan Club Has Officer Election

LISBON — E. C. Holloway was elected president of the newly formed Ruritan Club at Winona when the club was organized Tuesday evening.

Other officers elected are: Harold Sidwell, vice president; W. L. Satterthwaite, secretary; and Chester Mellinger, treasurer.

E. Dale Miller of Lisbon, district governor, presented the charter to the club at the dinner meeting held at the Methodist Church. Over 75 members of the Winona, Damascus, Lisbon, North Jackson, Greenford, Fairfield, Hanoverton, and West Township Ruritan Clubs attended.

Forty members are enrolled in the new club. J. R. Stamp, temporary president, presided prior to the election of officers.

Winona is the 12th club organized in Ohio, all located in Columbiana and Mahoning counties. The first clubs were organized at Lisbon, Hanoverton and Fairfield in the fall of 1952.

Housing Bill

Committee's plan for 135,000 a year to a total of about 800,000. The higher figure was retained, with seven Republicans joining 34 Democrats to support it. Seven Democrats and 31 Republicans voted for the Eisenhower program.

The Senate had voted for 135,000 units last year also, while the House voted none. The two houses finally reached agreement on 45,000 for one year.

In 1953 the Senate voted 35,000, the House none; they compromised at 20,000. Not since 1932 has the House, on its own, voted any such authority, and that year it approved only 5,000 units.

The low-rent housing projects are built by local housing authorities, but the federal government provides subsidies to help with operating costs and bond retirement.

The Senate accepted a one-year extension, to July 25, 1958, in the GI home loan program. Sen. Lehman (D-NY) originally proposed a three-year extension, but

Mantle Gets Five-For-Five As Yankees Rip Detroit, 11-4

Clouts His 17th Homer Of Year

Philadelphia Drops Dodgers To 4th Place

The Associated Press

About the only printable thing Cleveland, Chicago, Kansas City and Detroit — the American League's Western Division — can say about New York today is "Yankee go home!"

After 10 days in the West, the Yankees have pocketed an 8-2 record, including a three-game sweep that shattered Chicago's ambitious six-game winning streak. And Mickey Mantle now has a .421 season batting average with 17 home runs.

It was strictly a get-well-quick trip for the Yanks, who left home May 13 with only a one-game edge over Cleveland after losing four of six. Now the Yanks have a three-game bulge over the Indians.

Thursday the Yankees clubbed Detroit 11-4 to wrap up the tour. It was the second straight day they socked Tiger pitching for 17 hits, Mantle had a homer—putting him 12 games ahead of Babe Ruth's record pace—and four singles for his third perfect day on the tour.

The only other game scheduled was in the National, and Philadelphia dropped Brooklyn into a fourth place tie 6-4 as Willie Jones drove in four runs with two homers and a single.

New York's picnic at Detroit was a pretty fair example of how the Yanks have operated in the West. Bob Turley didn't go the distance, but Tom Sturdivant produced 5 1-3 scoreless relief innings with one-hit ball.

Robin Roberts won his fifth for the Phillies, although giving up homers by Duke Snider, Carl Furillo and Jackie Robinson. The veteran right-hander — who holds the one-season record of "home runs off" at 41 — now has given up 12 gopher balls this season.

Snider's homer put the Brooks into the lead in the first, but Jones tied it in the second and sent the Phils into a 4-2 lead in the fourth off rookie Don Drysdale, who lost his second in three decisions.

Alexander Wins All 3 Kiwanis Awards

Jack Alexander, Salem High School's most versatile athlete in many years, walked off with all three awards for the outstanding performer in three sports at the annual Kiwanis Athletic Banquet yesterday. The Kiwanis club, each year, honors the letter winners in every sport at Salem High School at a banquet.

They also present awards to the outstanding performer in each sport and yesterday Alexander cleaned house as he was awarded all three of the citations as tops in football, basketball and track. He will be representing Salem at the state track meet tomorrow.

The members of the different teams were introduced to the club and praised for the abilities and performances at Salem High School.

Jets, Stepanics, Demings, Bayard Win Softball Games

The Deming Jets, Stepanics Tavern, Demings and Bayard Grange captured victories in the city softball loop at Kelley Park last night. Don Fife of Demings and Sonny Guthrie of Youngstown Kitchens locked horns in one of the finest pitcher's duels seen this season in the opening game. They battled in the first six innings to a 0-0 deadlock. In the seventh Barcus scored for the Deming Jets on a long single by Gardner. Don Fife collected the win for Demings, and

Mantle Happy At Having Been In Every Game

By DAVID DILES

DETROIT (AP)—Mickey Mantle leads the American League in almost every hitting department, but he says what impresses him most is that he has played in every game.

"I don't set any goals as far as hitting goes," said the New York Yankee center fielder. "But just once in my life, I'd like to be able to play in every game of the season. Then maybe I could do some of these other things people are always talking about."

Not since Mickey came to the major leagues in 1951 as a 19-year-old sensation has he played in more than 147 games a season. And in many cases, his appearance was nothing more than to pinch-hit.

"These things that other people talk about include breaking Babe Ruth's record of 60 home runs, and winning the triple crown — batting, runs-batted-in and home runs. The free-swinging kid from Commerce, Okla., elects to leave that kind of talk to others."

If 1956 is the "big year" everyone has been anticipating, Mantle has his best start ever to send him flying toward a host of hitting honors. He has played in all 35 Yankee games and is far out in front of the pack in batting, home runs, runs-batted-in, hits and runs scored.

Before Thursday's 11-4 Yankee victory over Detroit, Mickey told a newsman, "It's probably silly to think I could keep going like this."

He took the field and proceeded to match the entire Tiger club hit for hit. He socked a home run and four line drive singles in five official trips for a perfect day at bat.

The performance shot his batting average up to .421, about 60 points ahead of his nearest rival. The home run was No. 17, five ahead of teammate Yogi Berra. He scored three times, giving him 39 — 10 ahead of Yankee Hank Bauer. He drove in three runs and leads Berra, who has 34, by 5. With 56 hits in 35 games, he is a dozen ahead of Detroit's Harvey Kuenn.

Robinson, Ferrarese May Be Best Rookies

NEW YORK (AP)—Put down Frank Robinson of Cincinnati and Don Ferrarese of Baltimore as probable candidates for major year honors.

Robinson, an outfielder, and Ferrarese, a lefthanded pitcher, appear to be in the lead in the competition for the prized award which is decided on a vote of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America at the close of the season.

Robinson, who has contributed to the Redlegs' vaunted attack with eight homers and 15 runs batted in, has filled adequately the left field gap, a sore spot for Cincinnati last season. He is batting .301.

Although showing only a 1-2 pitching record, Ferrarese has been a mild sensation in his three starts for the Orioles. He defeated the New York Yankees 1-0 on a two-hitter and lost to Cleveland 2-1 and to Detroit 3-2. Don has given up only four earned runs in 31 1-3 innings for an earned run average of 1.16. He has issued only 16 bases on balls and struck out 32.

Indians Face Chisox Tonight

Tribe's Top Pitchers Are Set For Series

CHICAGO (AP)—The Cleveland Indians try for their first victory of the season over the Chicago White Sox tonight.

The two teams haven't met since the opening of the season, when the White Sox won both games of a series. Both were pitchers' battles, with Billy Pierce besting Bob Lemon 2-1 in the opener, and Jack Harshman defeating Herb Score 1-0 in the second game.

Both managers have their top pitchers ready for the four-game series starting tonight, but neither has announced the order. Manager Marty Marion of the White Sox plans to use Pierce, Harshman, Bob Kegan and Jim Wilson. Chicago obtained Wilson, who has 1-1 mark against Cleveland, from Baltimore this week.

Al Lopez of the Indians has Lemon, Score, Mike Garcia and Early Wynn on tap.

Lopez plans a platoon system in the outfield, using Preston Ward against righthanders Wilson and Kegan, and Rocky Colavito against southpaws Pierce and Harshman.

Larry Doby, former Indian, will be in center field for Chicago. Shortstop Chico Carrasquel and centerfielder Jim Busby, former White Sox, will play for Cleveland. All three principals in the big winter trade are now hitting slightly over .200. Doby hasn't hit a home run yet.

The Indians will have Rudy Regalado at third base, subbing for Al Rosen, who was released from Lakeside Hospital Thursday. Rosen's knee injury will probably keep him out more than a week more.

50 Cars To Race At Canfield Saturday

Interest is mounting by both fans and drivers for MARC's new division of racing — late models — and at least 50 of these 1948-54 models will be in the lineup at Canfield Speedway Saturday night.

Three previous victors, Mike Klapak, Bob James and Bob Moore, will be on hand and these three outstanding drivers rate with the best in the country.

Klapak has a 1952 Ford, Moore a 1950 Oldsmobile and James a 1953 Oldsmobile.

There will be eight events, helmet dash, four heat duels, Australian pursuit, semifinals and 25-lap feature.

Nook Walters of Niles is looking for his first triumph. Walters has been in the top five every night of racing, but the checkered flag has eluded him in the feature. Walters drives the No. 1 1950 Mercury and he holds claim to being the roughest pilot in the circuit.

Time trials start at 7 p.m. and first event at 8:30 p.m.

Steve O'Neill, Indian Scout, Hurt In Fall

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steve O'Neill, Cleveland Indian scout and former Tribe manager and player was reported in "good" condition Thursday night at Doctor's Hospital, where he is recuperating from a slight concussion suffered in a fall.

His physician, Dr. Richard R. Renner, said O'Neill had "blackened out" and fallen down a flight of steps Monday night.

Redlegs Out For League Leadership

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Usually by this time of year the Cincinnati Redlegs are floundering around in the National League's second division but they moved in here today with a chance to challenge for the loop leadership.

With a three-game series with Milwaukee coming up, the Reds stand only a half game and .050 in percentage behind the league leading Braves. They're also a half game and .008 in percentage behind second place St. Louis.

Manager Birdie Tebbets says he intends to give Milwaukee a steady diet of right handed pitching in the series here, starting with Brooks Lawrence tonight.

The idea, of course, is to combat the right handed power hitting of Del Crandall, Hank Aaron and Thomson. It might mean a feast for left handed Eddie Mathews but he hasn't hurt the Reds as much in previous games this season as the other three.

After Lawrence, Tebbets figures to use Johnny Klippstein and then Art Fowler.

The Redlegs will face some tough pitching. Manager Charley Grimm of the Braves has Warren Spahn, Ray Crone and Bob Buhl ready.

Thursday night, the Cincinnatians registered a 3-2 exhibition game victory over the Kansas City Athletics on the strength of Stan Palys' eighth inning homer with Bob Thurman on base.

Paul LaPalme went seven innings for the Reds and got credit for the victory over the American League team.

Crackdown On Athletic Code Violations Praised

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Colleges which violate athletic codes in the future are playing a dangerous game with fate, according to the man who rides herd on infractions for the NCAA.

The trend toward stiffer penalties for violators is the real thing, A. D. Kirwan, chairman of the NCAA rules and infractions committee, said today.

Kirwan, a former football coach now teachers history at the University of Kentucky. He had praise for such conferences as the Pacific Coast, the Southeastern, the South West and Big Ten for cracking down on their members.

Joe Louis Returns Home As Wrestler

DETROIT (AP)—Joe Louis, who fought his way from Detroit Golden Gloves rings to the world's heavyweight boxing championship, came back home as a wrestler Monday night.

But there were some 10,000 empty seats at Olympia Stadium which he once could have jammed to the rafters with paying customers. And his estimated $1,000 share of the $4,681 gate was attached by U. S. Internal Revenue agents for back income taxes. He owes an estimated $1,250,000 to Uncle Sam.

Louis pinned Jim Bernard in a one-fall exhibition in seven minutes and 37 seconds. A crowd of 4,110 turned out for this and three other matches.

High School Students Check This!

SALEM COLLEGE will give two free typing lessons or/and Certified Speed Tests of one hour each to high school students on Monday and Thursday, June 4th and 7th, from 9 A. M. to P. M.

There will be no charge or obligation for these lessons. The object is to discover individual aptitudes, to encourage young people to learn typing, and to illustrate our individualized teaching methods. This project is wholly a professional community service for the youth of this area.

In order to perfect schedules, applications must be made in person, at Salem College, 1048 East State St., Salem, between 3 and 9 P. M., Monday or Thursday, May 17, 21, 28. This invitation is for all high school students in the Salem area.

Yours for the first steps in business.

Same offer is made for Compiometer lessons. Same dates.

GARLAND A. BRICKER, President

SESQUI SOUVENIRS ARE HERE — Using a phone of early days, Jim Criswell, office manager of Salem's Sesquicentennial Headquarters, sends out the news that official Salem Sesquicentennial souvenirs are now on sale throughout the city.

Holding two souvenir plates are Mrs. Theresa Beck, at left, and Mrs. Gladys Culbertson, secretaries in Sesqui headquarters. Criswell, with his top hat, beard, and Brothers of the Brush badge, and the women, with long skirts and bonnets and Sisters of Swish badges, are dressed in keeping with the Sesquicentennial atmosphere of the city.

Driver "Blown Apart" As Gas Truck Explodes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A highly volatile tank-truck load of naphtha oil and gasoline exploded early today at the plant of the Max J. Zeller Co., just south of Columbus, and Sheriff's Sgt. James Richardson said the driver of the truck was "blown apart."

The truck explosion apparently set off a 10,000 gallon tank into which the tank-truck load of oil and gas was being unloaded. The two explosions were heard several miles from the plant, Richardson said.

The sergeant identified the victim as Joshua Talbert, 24, of Columbus, driver for Reis Bros., Inc., Columbus. He said Talbert was scheduled to bring the 20,000 gallon tank-truck load in last night from Cincinnati to the Zeller plant, where it is used in making asphalt.

A fire following the explosion burned for 1 1/2 hours before firemen from two townships brought it under control.

Loss was confined to the tank and truck, Richardson said. There was no immediate estimate of the damage.

Cause of the explosion was not known, and Richardson said it may be impossible to determine.

5,853 County Pupils To Go On Vacation

LISBON — By June 2 a total of 5,853 high school and elementary students in the Columbiana County school system will be recessed for summer vacation, according to County Supt. James L. McBride.

Eighth grade graduation exercises will be held in the following schools for students who will enter the new Beaver Local High School in the fall. Calcutta, 60; Clarkson, 28; Rogers, 22; Oak Grove, 9; and West Point, 27.

Fairview, 20; Highlandtown, 19; and No. 16, 5; Wellsville High School.

Unity, 25; and Negley, 18; East Palestine High School.

Knox Twp., 71; to Alliance and Goshen High Schools.

West Local, 35; Minerva High School.

Wayne Twp., 17; Lisbon High School.

Franklin Twp., 18; Salineville, 58; Salineville High School.

United Local, 80; United Local High, which will have freshmen and sophomores.

New Waterford, 21; New Waterford High School.

The three county high schools will graduate 118 students: Fairfield, 31; New Waterford, 48; and Salineville, 39.

Actor Guy Kibbee Dies In Nursing Home

EAST ISLIP, N. Y. (AP)—Guy Kibbee, veteran stage and screen star, died here today at a home for sick and needy actors. He was 74.

Kibbee had been bedridden with a severe form of polio for more than a year.

Kibbee was one of the best known of film players with roles in more than 100 Hollywood films. His career began on Mississippi River showboats.

When he entered the nursing home, his only income was social security benefits.

Russian Interest In Pure Science Seen Developing

MOSCOW (AP) — A group of visiting U. S. scientists believes Russia's atomic physicists are developing an interest in pure scientific research that goes beyond the creation of A-bombs.

This interest, one American said, is partly motivated by the great prestige and unusual rewards that the Soviet Union offers its scientists.

The 14 Americans, who have been attending a conference on the physics of high energy particles, said in a statement:

"A source of particular gratification to us has been the observation of a strong interest in pure science on the part of so many Soviet physicists. This has been reflected in our many discussions concerning basic ideas."

A spokesman for the group, Dr. Robert R. Wilson of Cornell University, told a news conference that the Russians "are not just making practical things like missiles and atomic bombs, but have a big program of research."

Dr. Robert E. Marshak of the University of Rochester told questions at the news conference it was impossible to say whether the Russians had swung away from research into the military applications of atomic energy to other fields since the programs were not mutually exclusive.

Marshak and Wilson said the exchanges showed "no reflection of political ideas."

"We speak the same language," they said. "Their science shows no influence of Marxist ideology."

They reported the Soviet government attracts the country's best brains to the science field through the great prestige and rewards it offers. "Their scientists are relatively better off than ours," Marshak said.

OH, DEAR, OH DEER! — It's a tough world as this week-old Costa Rican fawn found when he ventured into it at the Como Park zoo in St. Paul. He ended up in a nearby pen of mules and emerged with two broken hind legs. Now wearing casts, the youngster will have to stay close to his mother for a couple of weeks.

required 3-man majority to approve the delay.

The proposed turnpike rate change would have hiked fares for automobiles but would have reduced charges for trucks over the 408-mile expressway.

New Polio Cases Total Only 85 In Past Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — New polio cases last week totaled only 85, slightly more than a third of the 245 in the corresponding week last year and the lowest number for the comparable week since 1951.

However, Public Health Service spokesmen reiterated today it is still too early to say what may happen later in the year. They also said it is too early and information is too scanty to say whether the big drop reflects use of Salk polio vaccine.

For the disease year, which started about April 1, there had been 564 cases through May 19, compared with 983 during the 1955 span. For this calendar year there had been 1,632, compared with 2,046 in 1955.

The 85 cases last week compared with 122 in the corresponding week of 1952, which later became the record polio year with heavy outbreaks after July 1.

It was the second straight week this year in which 85 cases were reported, those in the week ended May 12, comparing with 205 a year ago.

Texas with 25 cases and California with 18 last week made up more than half the national total but spokesmen said those totals were in line with seasonal expectations and with the national trend.

Paralytic cases are continuing to run proportionately higher this year than last. Through May 19, the health service said 882 of the 1,632 cases were listed as paralytic, compared with 869 out of 2,046 a year ago.

Two Young Sisters Perish In Blaze

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio (AP) — Two young sisters died in a fire which swept their frame home Wednesday night while their mother was in a hospital recovering from surgery performed a week ago.

The victims were Wilma Elizabeth Bennett, 10, and Mary Ann, 8.

Their father, Alfred, 49, was in the house, but a raging fire on the stairway blocked his efforts to rescue them from an upstairs bedroom. Fire Chief Wayne Troy said the fire apparently was started by defective wiring under the stairway.

A brother, Carl, 13, first noticed smoke coming out an upstairs window when he went to join other children on a nearby baseball field. He and other children threw stones to break the windows in the girls' room. Mary Ann came to the window, but apparently panicked and turned away.

Chief Troy said the girls apparently suffocated. The interior of the six-room house was destroyed.

The mother, Alma, was treated for shock at Martins Ferry hospital after she was told of the deaths.

Pennsylvania Delays Turnpike Rate Hike

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, using the vote of a newly installed member, today voted to delay indefinitely a proposed hike in tolls.

The commission voted 3-1 in favor of delaying, with Republican Commissioner James F. Torrance opposing. He opposed the move Tuesday forcing the overnight appointment of John F. Byrne, Philadelphia, to give Democrats the

Begins Jail Sentence

LISBON — James Anas of East Liverpool, who was sentenced to 30 days in county jail and fined $500 on gambling charges, started to serve his term Monday morning.

Judge Joel H. Sharp had given him until then to settle his affairs. Pete Cazan of East Liverpool posted a $500 cash bond for George Rigas of East Liverpool and withdrew the property bond which he had posted. Rigas has until June 15 to appear or the bond will be forfeited by the court.

Rigas, one of four East Liverpool men indicted by the April grand jury on gambling charges, was last reported in Wheeling, W. Va. He said he would return to face trial when his health permitted.

ORDINANCE NO. 56015-25
BEING AN ORDINANCE TO LEVY SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF RIDGEWOOD AVENUE SERVING LOTS ONE (1) TO ELEVEN (11) BY THE CONSTRUCTION OF A SANITARY SEWER.
BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SALEM, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1
That the assessment of the cost and expenses of improving Ridgewood Avenue serving lots 1 to 11 by the construction of a sanitary sewer amounting in the aggregate to Two Thousand Eight Hundred Ninety-three and 7/10 ($2,893.70) Dollars as reported to this Council on the 24th day of April, 1956, by the City Engineer, notice of the filing of which assessment has been given as required by law, be and the same hereby is adopted and confirmed and that there be and hereby is levied and assessed upon the lots and lands bounding and abutting upon said improvement, the several amounts reported as assessed, said assessments, together with the description of said lots and lands are now on file in the office of the Clerk of this Council, and which assessments are at the rate of Two and 25/100 ($2.25) Dollars, per front foot, and are not in excess of the special benefits to said property, and are not in excess of any statutory limitation.

SECTION 2
That the total assessment, plus any interest due thereon, shall be payable in cash within thirty days from and after the passage of this ordinance to the treasurer of said city. All assessments or installments, plus any interest due thereon, remaining unpaid at the expiration of said thirty days shall be certified by the Clerk of this Council to the County Auditor, as provided by law, to be by him placed on the tax duplicate and collected as other taxes are collected.

SECTION 3
That this ordinance is hereby determined to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety in the City of Salem and shall go into immediate effect for the reason that said improvements should be promptly paid for to avoid additional expense to the City and taxpayers.

GUNMEN ROB BAR

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two gunmen Thursday night entered Pawuk's Bar on Brookpark Road. One of the men forced eight customers and the bartender to keep their hands on the bar while the other took $2,000 from the cash register and put it in a black bag. Mrs. Pazia Pawuk, the owner, was ordered to open a safe in the back room. Mrs. Pawuk said she was so frightened she forgot the combination and the man finally gave up waiting. The safe contained an other $2,000, she said.

OH, JANIE! SEE IF YOU CAN LOCATE THE JANITOR. TELL HIM I WANT HIM AS SOON AS POSSIBLE!

SURE, RITA! TONY'S IN THE SHIPPING DEPARTMENT I THINK.

BY THE WAY, JANIE, MAYBE IT'D LOOK BETTER IF YOU'D CALL ME MISS LANE. I MEAN, DURING COMPANY HOURS, OF COURSE, NOT IN PRIVATE!

MISS LANE? BUT WHY? IT'LL SEEM KINDA STRANGE.

IT'LL LOOK MORE BUSINESS-LIKE... AT LEAST WHILE MAKEUP'S MAN IS HERE TO INSPECT THE PLANT. YOU KNOW... JUST AN OFFICE FORMALITY!

OKAY... BUT I STILL DON'T GET IT!

ODS BOPKINS!

DON'T GO IN THERE, JILL. WHEN THAT QUIET TYPE STARTS TO GO, THEY GET VIOLENT!

OH, DADDY! MORTY'S JUST REHEARSING HIS PART IN OUR LITTLE THEATER PLAY!

ODS BOPKINS!

PERSONALLY, I THINK THE PART'S TOO BIG FOR HIM

PRISCILLA'S POP

By AL VERMEER

COME QUICK! POP'S ON FIRE!

ARE YOU SURE?

I HEARD HIM TELL MR. BOTT'S HE'S GOT FIVE DOLLARS.

AND HE SAID IT'S BURNING A HOLE IN HIS POCKET!

YOU JUST CAN'T SAY ANYTHING IN FRONT OF CHILDREN!

GEE, I'M GLAD WE MARRIED HIM!

MARTHA WAYNE

By WILSON SCRUGGS

YOU WERE RIGHT, OF ALL THINGS A CHARM MISSING FROM A CHARM BRACELET ON DISPLAY!

THAT'S WHAT I THOUGHT!

MARTHA, I THINK WE OUGHT TO FIX THE BRACELET AND GIVE IT TO HER FOR TAKING THE TIME TO COME IN AND TELL US ABOUT IT.

AGREED! THELMA, WHERE ARE THOSE TICKETS FOR FREE RIDES AT THE KIDDE CARNIVAL?

IS THERE A MERRY-GO-ROUND?

AS DUKY SETTLES ON THE CITY...

I'M ALL OUT OF TICKETS AND MONEY. WILL YOU GIVE ME A RIDE IF I GIVE YOU THIS?
